Support the Event and Connect with Your Target Audience!

The USG United Scientific Group a nonprofit organization organizes interdisciplinary international conferences to showcase cutting-edge basic and applied research across life sciences, including medicine and the evolving role of science and technology in society.

The CGT Summit 2026 is a three-day international event designed to bring together business leaders and the Cell Gene Therapy industry's foremost researchers. It offers attendees the opportunity to interact, learn, and engage on key issues facing the next generation of science and innovation on Cell Gene Therapy.

Participants will include top-level Cell Gene Therapy representatives from prominent commercial enterprises, regulatory agencies, scientific organizations, and academic institutions.

USG offers various sponsorship packages for organizations to demonstrate their commitment to advancing science and its community. Your support will help facilitate the presentation of groundbreaking research, hospitality services, and essential conference operations.
